DON'T NEGLECT TO CREATE & STYLE YOUR

It's the first place everyone goes to see how many times they are in the book. The index serves as a vital, user-friendly reference tool that allows students to quickly locate themselves, friends, groups and events.

Every person, group and covered event should appear in the index in alphabetical order along with the corresponding pages:

- Students
- Staff members
- Teams
- Groups
- Clubs
- Large Events

Always include both first and last names for staff members. "Mr.", "Ms.", "Coach" are generally not included for sorting purposes. But consider using a different color or italics to set the staff apart.

Design your group and event listings to stand out from the names making them much easier for your reader to quickly locate

When groups have proper names, be sure to create a forward to the type of group, as well. Readers in the distant future will be thankful.

The index provides 26 more opportunities to help your reader remember the year

Make your own ABC's of:

- current events
- pop culture
- trends
- students
- campus culture
- or ask 26 people a question that relates to your theme
